TENEMENT HOUSE FIRE.

Eight Persons Known to Have Perished--List of the Dead and Injured--Incidents.

NEW YORK, May 3.--Eight persons are known to have perished in the fire which occurred last night, in the double brick tenement No. 172 First avenue. They were: Joseph Humphrey, aged thirty-five; Henry Humphrey, aged forty months; Miss Elizabeth Hurley, aged twenty-five; Mrs. C. Koerner, aged forty-eight; Miss Mina Krithamer, aged thirty-two; Richard Krithamer, aged eleven; William Hurley, and Mary, a sister of Mrs. Humphrey, aged forty-five. With the exception of William Hurley, who died this morning, all were taken out of the building dead. Besides the killed, there were fourteen persons injured. The following were partly injured: Mrs. Ida Roehrich, aged twenty-two; Albert Koerner, aged fifteen; Miss Kate Koerner, aged twenty-eight; William Pfannog, aged sixteen; George Hurley, aged eight; Mrs. Kate Limbacher, aged fifty-five; Mrs. Kate Limbacher, aged twenty-six; Katie Limbacher, aged six; Martha and Alfred Krithamer, aged respectively twelve and ten years; an infant child of Mrs. Roehrich's. The following had each a leg broken by jumping from windows: Pauline Koerner, aged sixteen; Wilhelmina Koerner, aged seven; and Rosa Humphrey, aged fourteen. The last also suffered partial asphyxiation. At the time of the fire there were eight families in the house, with a total of thirty-six souls. In the north building Herman Limbacher occupied the second floor, with his wife and one child; George Hurley the third floor, with his wife and four children; Joe Humphrey the fourth floor, with his wife, infant, and sister-in-law, and Jacob Koerner the top floor, with his wife and six children. In the south building Jacob Burge used the first floor as a saloon and the second as living apartments, with his wife. The third floor was occupied by Philip Limbacher, his wife and child. The fourth by Max Krithamer, his wife and four children, and the top floor by Herman Roehrich, his wife and three children. Mr. Roehrich was the only tenant in the building that escaped without loss. Immediately when the fire was discovered he closed his doors and windows to keep out the smoke, took his wife and three children to the front window and passed them one by one down the ladder erected by the fire. Mrs. Roehrich, in an interview, said she saw Mrs. Humphrey at the hospital to-day, and that she said Mr. Humphrey set the place on fire.

Philip Limbacher was awakened by the smoke. He aroused his wife and four children and dropped them from the third story window into the arms of persons below. Officer Flaherty, who rescued three of the Koerner family, caught a third child of Limbacher. Pauline Koerner jumped from a window on the top floor. The direct cause of the fatality is attributed to the carelessness of Humphrey's part, who often closed his saloon and left a very hot fire in his range. The loss of property was insignificant.

THE JAPANESE WRESTLER CHARMED HIS QUAKER WIFE WITH HIS ALMOND-SHAPED EYES.

NEW YORK, May 2.--Matsuda Soraichichi and his Quaker wife, formerly Miss Ella B. Lodge, had a skirmish yesterday. Ever since the pair were married some time ago they have lived a stormy life. The wrestler was arrested several weeks after his marriage on the charge of cruelty preferred by his wife. When the case came up for trial the woman relented, and refused to prosecute. She told the judge, though, to explain how she first became infatuated with Matsuda, that he had bewitched her, and she lost complete control of herself. When he fixed his large, almond-shaped eyes upon her, the spell was complete. She was in his power. They were keeping home the open fire. Soraichichi never forgot the time when his wife had him brought up in court, and from a kind husband he changed, so she alleges, to a very disagreeable companion. The flat is on the fourth floor, east side of the building. Yesterday matters came to a crisis, and the wife succeeded by strategy in locking Soraichichi out. All day long he made vain efforts to get in, but she had the door barricaded and whispered through the keyhole that he held the fort and would die before she would surrender. He put his huge shoulders against the door and pushed with all his might, but did not succeed in gaining an entrance. The tenants in the building soon became aware that something unusual was going on. They heard a general voice and now and then a yell cry, which was a cross between a coyote yell and a Comanche whoop. They peered over the banisters from above and looked up from below and saw the champion wrestler perspiring and cowering. He hammered at the door when his wife, Ella, yelled to him that she was in possession and intended to remain as long as provisions held out. Jaded and completely worn out by ineffectual attempts to get in, the Jap retired in bad order. He first thought of invoking the aid of the law and having his wife arrested for treating him harshly. He chuckled over the idea and was well on his way to the station when he met a fellow Jap, the famous double sword swallower, and told him how he had been locked out by a hard-headed wife. The sword swallower remembered the room the wrestler had after the honeymoon, and low Matsuda had won her back by his charm of fixing his eyes upon her. He advised him to pass the intervening hours between then and evening stimulating himself with beer, and go quietly home and ask for a parley; that perhaps she would stick her head out of the door and all her old love would return. Matsuda took the advice, and it worked like magic. His wife looked out of the door at him, and he fixed his wonderful almond-shaped eyes upon her. In ten minutes the past was forgotten and husband and wife sat down to a hastily prepared meal.

THE FIRE RECORD.

A Fire at the Village of Cabot Destroys Twenty-Five Business Houses and Four Dwellings.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 3.--At 2 o'clock Sunday morning fire was discovered in Mrs. Hilborn's millinery shop, at Cabot, a village of 800 population, twenty-five miles from Kansas City, and there being no fire department there the flames spread over the entire business portion, burning to the ground twenty-five business houses and four dwellings. The total loss is estimated at $100,000. Most of the losses are covered by insurance. The heaviest individual loss was on the store of J. B. Olsen & Co. Loss, $38,000; insurance, $10,000. Y. P. Latham, hardware store, loss, $3,000; insurance, $5,000. The Postoffice is a total loss, amount unknown. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. Three suspicious-looking characters left a freight train just after the alarm was given, and were arrested on telegraphic orders. The populace are in a state of alarm, and if the man can not show a clear record their chance for lynching is good.

A Commission House Burned.

CHICAGO, May 3.--A fire broke out at 11:30 o'clock this evening in the top of Nos. 161 and 163 South Water street, and so fiercely that a second and general alarm closely followed the first. At midnight the flames appeared to be under control. The first floor of the building in which the fire started is occupied by the commission house of John Lally, and in the top story where the fire broke out are the headquarters of live game and poultry stored in crates and coops. The intermediate floors occupied by several parties whose loss will not be from water and can not be estimated. The only damage to the first floor and stock is by water. The loss on the building will be considerable, but there is no way of ascertaining it at this hour or the amount of insurance.

While the fire was at its height twenty-five firemen, who were engaged on the top floors of the burning building, were caught by a section of falling roof. A few escaped unhurt, some were taken out badly bruised, and two are still missing. None of these rescued are fatally injured, but it is feared that the two remaining in the ruins were either killed outright or have since died of injuries or been burned to death, as they fell to respond to the shouts of those searching for them. Their names have not been learned. The latest estimate of the total loss is $15,000.

Lumber Burned in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, May 3.--A special to the Sentinel from Stevens Point says that 5,000,000 feet of choice grade lumber belonging to Spryren & Wadleigh, of that city, was destroyed by fire early this morning, causing a loss of $70,000; insurance unknown. Robert Main also lost half a million feet, upon which there was an insurance of $30,000. No one is thought to have been the work of an incendiary.

Other Fire Losses.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 3.--A News Register special from Hubert, O., says: Fire late last night caught a loss of $15,000, fully insured.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 3.--Fire broke out in the Bridge Coal Company's mine near West Side this evening. It is impossible to ascertain the extent.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 3.--Fire of unknown origin consumed Mark Hunter's large barn at Galine Station near Kankakee this morning. Loss $30,000, insurance $2,500.

Colapse of a Brewery.

PITTSBURGH, May 2.--Wainwright's brewery, on Thirty-sixth street, caved in with a heavy crash about 3 o'clock this morning. The noise occasioned by the collapse aroused the citizens residing in the vicinity, and for a time the excitement was very great. Rumors of loss of life were freely circulated, but they were without foundation, no person being in the building at the time of the accident. The building was a four-story brick, substantially built. The immense weight of the beer, it is supposed, caused the supports of the floor to give away, and the building collapsed from the roof to the cellar. The falling of the walls crushed the beer barrels, and torrents of the malt fluid ran into the street, and completely flooded the cellar. The loss is over $100,000. The structure will be rebuilt at once.

A Negro Killed by a Party of White Men.

NASHVILLE, May 3.--A Waverly (Tenn.) special says: "Last night a party of men visited the house of Conly Johnson (colored) and ordered him to open his door. He refused, when the door was broken down and several shots fired into the house. Johnson leaped from a back window and started to run away, when a dozen or twenty shots were fired at him. His body was found this morning filled with shot and a bullet-hole through his head. The affair is supposed to have been caused by a difficulty two weeks ago between a negro and a white man at a log rolling. Several negroes were whipped a week or ten days ago in the same vicinity. The parties are unknown."

Three Men Shot.

COMMERCIAL GAZETTE FROM CATTLESBURG, KY., says: "At 12 o'clock last night three men, named Chester Honaker, Peter Canterbury and Dave Stewart, were shot by Henry Frees colored. The men were attempting to force an entrance to a house of ill fame and the inmates, fearing trouble, sent Frees, who lives near by. There were six in the party, and Frees shot the three mentioned. Honaker is expected to die. Frees himself is threatened with lynchings he has made."

TERRIBLE BOILER EXPLOSION

At the Tremont Hotel, Galveston, Texas--Several Persons Killed and Many Injured.

GALVESTON, Tex., May 3.--A terrible catastrophe occurred in this city at 7:30 this morning. One of the boilers of the Tremont Hotel exploded, instantly killing several persons and wounding several others, and adding great damage to the hotel and neighboring property. The killed are as follows: Several children; Lawrence Carr, a fireman, who leaves a family; Clara Miller, a white woman, and Anderson Jones, a colored scrubber.

Following are the wounded:

Jose Aquila, pastry cook, injured internally; John Axman, bell-boy, shoulder broken and otherwise injured; Marquis Sullivan, collar bone broken and badly cut about the head; B. Walton, colored waiter, badly bruised; Mrs. Warren, Irish woman, slightly bruised about the head. The occasion from the explosion was appalling. The Tremont is a five-story brick, with 120 feet frontage on Tremont street and about the same depth on Church street. The boiler-blast was situated at the northwest corner of the building and was a small one-story brick structure, attached to the main building. The explosion shook the great building with such terrible force that the guests thought a tremendous earthquake had occurred and ran panic-stricken about the hallways.

Engines, pumps and boilers are total wrecks. Fortunately but few guests were quartered in the portion of the building nearest the scene of the explosion.

Various theories are afloat regarding the cause of the accident. Engineers who examined the wreck generally agree that the boiler was defective--that its tubes were not sufficiently lapped over and welded into the mainhead. It is believed the steam gauge did not register sixty pounds at the time of the disaster, whereas the boiler was supposed to be able to sustain 200 pounds. But in the absence of heavy bolts sustaining the mainheads of the boilers it proved unable to bear half its supposed pressure. The damage and loss to the building will reach $10,000. It is insured against fire. The hotel is owned by Colonel W. E. Hughes, of Dallas, Tex. A colored jury was summoned, viewed the remains and adjourned until to-morrow. A thousand people visited the scene this afternoon and clamored about the neighboring undertaker's establishment, waiting to view the mangled bodies.

As the boiler exploded its bed it shot skyward, crossed an intervening yard, passed through the upper part of a two-story frame, swept across twenty-fourth street, going clear over a story and a half house, trotting on the street, and then dashed into another two-story frame. This last place was a house of business, and the heavy bolts sustaining the mainheads of the boilers it proved unable to bear half its supposed pressure. The damage and loss to the building will reach $10,000. It is insured against fire. The hotel is owned by Colonel W. E. Hughes, of Dallas, Tex. A colored jury was summoned, viewed the remains and adjourned until to-morrow. A thousand people visited the scene this afternoon and clamored about the neighboring undertaker's establishment, waiting to view the mangled bodies.

ABOUT FAST TRAINS.

The Baltimore and Ohio Schedules.

Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, May 3.--The fastest trains in the world have become the popular cry of the trunk lines, but just who runs them is a point the public is not quite clear upon. However, the Baltimore and Ohio, with its new schedule which went into effect to-day, has cleared up matters to a considerable extent. It certainly has the fastest train in the world to give it the lead. The time of the Chicago limited has been cut down so that the run now made in less than twenty-three hours, or faster than made by the limited of any other road. Leaving at 10 a. m. to the arrival in Chicago at 5:50 the next morning. The Baltimore and Ohio's Cincinnati limited is, by the new schedule, up to four hours faster than any other limited to that city, the run being reduced down to the unprecedented time of sixteen hours. Depart at 2:30 p. m. in arrival in Cincinnati at 7:30 the succeeding morning. The St. Louis limited, which leaves at the same time, is a twenty-seven-hour run, reaching that city next evening at 8:30, over a hour faster than competing limiteds. The Pittsburgh limited accomplishes the run to that city in nine hours and a half, also upward of an hour faster than the fastest of the other lines being run directly in competition with the limited trains of lines making extra charges, none are made by the Baltimore and Ohio, in doing this the company announced a determination to make the fastest time at the regular rate of ticket fare. From the west, the Baltimore and Ohio limited from Chicago to Baltimore and Ohio from St. Louis, as well as from Pittsburgh, get in an hour ahead.

Indianians at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, May 3.--Mrs. Hendricks departed for her home in Indianapolis this afternoon.

The Vice President will attend the reunion at the battle ground of Gettysburg. Frank Miller and James Price, of Indianapolis, arrived this evening.

Governor Oglesby Called on for More Troops.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 3.--Sheriff Hanchett, of Cook County, telegraphed the Governor to-night that he was unable to control the strikers at Lamont and asked for more troops. The Governor replied that, if occasion required, the Adjutant General might call out three additional companies and place them at his disposal. Trouble is feared at Lamont. Governor Oglesby left for Elkhart, Ill., to-night.

A Murderer Captured.

DETROIT, May 4.--A Free Press Marquette special says: Pat Benan, murderer of Deputy Sheriff Kohl, was captured at Escanaba early this morning. He was taken to Ishpeming from which place he was brought here. At first it was thought he would be lynched when caught, but this is no longer feared.

PEACE NOW PROBABLE.

The Curaira Decidedly Favors Peace--Cunningham and Burton's Counsel Lacks Funds for Their Defense.

THE WAR QUESTION.

The Reviews Contain Numerous Articles on the War Question--Some Important Opinions.

LONDON, May 3.--All the reviews of the current month contain articles illustrating warlike rumors and probabilities, presenting trenchant and attractive views. Sir Austin Layard, of diplomatic, Nineveh and Crimean fame, has a paper in the Contemporary on "Our Relations with Turkey," attacking Mr. Gladstone's policy of allowing Turkey and Persia to drift toward Russian influence. The policy is the reverse, he says, of all great English statesmen from Clarendon to Beaconsfield. Layard does not indicate in his article that Russia is aiming, not at India, but an advance to the Arabian Sea for a commercial outlet, conquering Baluchistan, but in private he holds strong affirmative views that way.

The Nineteenth Century goes to the extent of three war articles. "The Coming War," by Prince Krapotkin, the tenor of which is an ingenious and well-argued theory to the effect that "Russia goes to war for markets." He argues that Russian conquests in Central Asia are in the interests of ultimate civilization. On the other hand, Isidor Goldsmith's paper, "Why I Left Russia," shows up Russian civilization tendencies in deeper aspects than are to be found in the book published last Monday by Siegmund, "Russia Under the Czar," which is creating a profound sensation. General Greene contributes a short paper on "The Great Wall of India," meaning the 750 miles of the Salween Mountains from Kanchi to Peshawar. He is willing that this should be the frontier of Russia, arguing plausibly that the nearer it is to the Empire of India the more loyal the latter would be to England.

Sir Lepel Griffin leads the fortnightly with an article entitled "Peace or War," in which he argues for peace and concludes for war, his premises and inferences being as logical as his recent presumable logic about the United States.

Colonel Mallison, the distinguished military authority, leads the National Review with an article, chronologically arranged, on "The Advance of Russia," concluding, as to the present situation, that an armed truce is worse than instant war. The popular interest in war rhetoric is shown by the enormous sale of the reviews. Meanwhile, amid the clash of the reviews the little Pall Mall Gazette bravely and with powerful arraignment of facts daily combats the idea that Russia is wrong in trying to absorb Afghanistan if she can, and claims that she has the right on her side in the pending diplomacy.

Russia Wants Time to Discuss the English Proposal.

LONDON, May 3.--The Cabinet Council on Saturday had under consideration a dispatch received from Sir Edward Thornton, the Minister to Russia, stating that M. De Giers, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, asked for time in which to discuss and interpret the agreement of March 17, before deciding whether arbitration was required to settle the pending difficulties. As a result of the Cabinet discussion, Earl Granville intimated his willingness to defer the laying of the dispute before a third power for settlement, provided M. De Giers admitted the principle of arbitration. A further communication from Sir Edward Thornton was received at the Foreign Office to-night. It is reported that the English Minister stated in this dispatch that Russia accepted the principle of arbitration. A Cabinet council has been summoned for to-morrow. The Curaira, whose influence is nearly absolute over the Czar, is actively assisting in the peace negotiations.

The Sunday editions of the London newspapers confirm the report that a secret treaty has been made between England and Turkey, according to the terms of which, England is to be allowed to send men of war through the Dardanelles in the event of war.

An Honorable Expedit for Both Sides.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 3.--The same Regiment, which has been in garrison at Constantinople for the past eleven years, has been ordered to Kasson. The papers state that Rademsky, Gourko, Drazmloff, Ischeronoff, and Abramoff will be the principal Generals in the Russian army in the event of a Russo-English war. The Moscow Gazette says it has reason to believe an honorable expedient has been found by which both sides can settle the Russo-English dispute.

Ready to Cut Ocean Cables.

LONDON, May 3.--It is now learned that Russian cruisers have been stationed for some time past at convenient points in the Pacific Ocean in readiness in case of war to cut the ocean cable connecting England with China, India and Australia.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

The Alleged Dynamiters, Cunningham and Burton.

LONDON, May 3.--Mr. Stephen K. Meany, of New York, counsel for Cunningham and Burton, now under indictment for treason-felony, in causing the dynamite explosion at the Tower of London, is to start next week on a lecture tour in aid of the fund for the defense of the prisoners. The cities and towns of Lancashire, where Irishmen are numerous, will comprise the principal part of the tour. The lectures are deemed necessary because of the niggardly subscriptions obtained in America for the defense. It is believed here that the smallness of the donations in America, where heretofore Irishmen have been remarkably generous in all such cases, is the present, is due to a belief on the part of Irish-Americans that Burton has been prevailed upon to turn informer, and has already been coached as to the evidence he is expected to give at the trial, which is to take place on May 11. Rumors to the effect that the crown would use Burton as a witness to secure the conviction of Cunningham have been current in London for several weeks past, and are probably true, judging from the official pronouncements which have been taken to prevent Cunningham or any of his friends from having any communication with Burton. Special care has also been taken to keep the prisoners from coming together in the court during the trial. Selected and well-armed constables have been detailed to guard them within the precincts of the court, the Crown Prosecutor having intimated that Cunningham would probably attempt to assault Burton while in the dock unless means were taken to prevent such an outrage. The lawyer alleged that he had learned that Cunningham had stated to a fellow prisoner that he suspected Burton would be used as a witness against him. The general opinion among the English people is that the Government has secured enough evidence to convict both men. This opinion is, however, based on the assertions repeatedly made by Mr. Poland, the Crown Solicitor, during the preliminary examinations. Many persons, in view of the same assertions, think it rather strange that the Government should at this late date accept Burton as an informer.

Nubar Pasha Apologizes.

CAIRO, May 3.--Nubar Pasha, the Egyptian Prime Minister, has formally apologized to M. Tallandier, the French Charge d'Affaires, and the Reschere Egyptian incident is considered at an end. During his talk with M. Tallandier, Nubar Pasha said that he hoped to be able on the first of next month to fix a date for the payment of the Alexandria indemnities.

The Abyssinian Passengers.

LONDON, May 3.--Most of the passengers of the disabled steamer Abyssinia started again for New York on the steamer Nevada, which left Liverpool yesterday. The remainder will follow in this week's Gulf steamer.

Wants a Credit for Malagasy.

PARIS, May 3.--The French Cabinet has decided to ask the Chambers to vote the urgent extra credit of 12,000,000 francs which was requested by M. Ferry for the Malagasy expedition.

Agreed to the Treaty.

BERLIN, May 3.--A majority of the Bundesrath have approved of the treaty between Germany and Russia for the extradition of fugitives.

Another Carcano Claimed to Be the Trunk Victim.

CHICAGO, May 3.--Francisco Carcano, a resident of the Italian district of the city, believes the corpse discovered at Pittsburgh, in a trunk from Chicago, to be that of his brother Phillip Carcano. Francisco does not understand English, and had not heard of the mystery until this morning, when, with others, he listened to the reading by an interpreter of a newspaper account of the affair. He was at once impressed with the belief that the dead man was his brother, and said he thought Phillip had been murdered for his money. He and his brother Francisco lived together. Last Thursday morning Phillip took his savings, amounting to $350, and started out in search of a route, he being a peddler, since which time nothing has been seen of him. Francisco is of the opinion that his brother was the victim of foul play.

Dr. Burchard's Farewell Sermon.

NEW YORK, May 3.--Rev. Dr. S. D. Burchard this morning preached his farewell sermon as pastor of the Murray Hill Presbyterian Church. The subject of his discourse was the doctrine of universal sanctification and justification by faith. A man, he said, was condemned for one fault, and no other works of supererogation could atone for his transgression. At the close of the sermon Dr. Burchard reviewed his whole ministerial career from the time he came to New York from the seminary in Danville, Ky., and took charge of the Houston Street Presbyterian Church, where he remained pastor for forty consecutive years. The Murray Hill Church grew out of that of Danville, but did not prosper as the old church, owing to the hard times. He made no direct reference to his famous alliteration, "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion."

An Unprecedented Hallstorm.

PETERSBURG, Va., May 3.--The hailstorm which passed over this section Friday afternoon prevailed in many other localities, and extended into North Carolina. All the growing cotton, corn and vegetables were destroyed, and the farmers will be compelled to plant again. In some places in Surrey County, this State, the hail fell to the depth of eighteen inches, and in some spots was drifted to the depth of four feet.

Americans in the City of Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 3.--A large number of Americans are here, filling the hotels. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., President of the Union Pacific Railway, and Hon. Frank Hitchcock, member of the United States Congress, and family are here.

Catholic College Dedicated.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 3.--The Catholic College of the Holy Ghost was dedicated here to-day with appropriate ceremonies. Thirty thousand people attended the service, and 7,000 participated in the parade.

Forty Indictments.

FREEDHOLD, N. J., May 3.--During the May term of the Court, beginning next Tuesday, Frank Patterson will be tried on forty indictments for forgery.

Declines the Consulship.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.--A. Haller Gross has declined the appointment as Consul to Athens, Greece.

INDICATIONS.

WASHINGTON, May 4--12:42 a. m.

For the Ohio Valley and Tennessee--Fair weather, westerly winds in the Ohio Valley, southerly to western winds in Tennessee, slightly warmer.

For the Upper Lake Region--Slightly warmer fair weather, variable winds.
